Come for a weekend of Bible study, fellowship, singing, and activities. The camp offers cabins for accommodations and a beautiful oceanfront beach.

The theme this year is to look at the work the Lord did in Peter's life as he experienced highs and lows in his walk with the Lord. An outline of the studies will be shared with registered attendees before the conference. If you have questions about the event, you can direct them to Eric Clermont by email: eric@ericclermont.com.

What to expect: This conference is packed with fun and studying the Bible together. Bible studies, devotions, and small group sessions are led by the young people. There is plenty of free time to enjoy activities such as canoeing, beach volleyball, archery, etc. The cabins and other facilities are fairly modern, and the opportunity to sing by the campfire while looking out over the Atlantic Ocean is one you won't soon forget.
